NSDL UPDATE

June 2011

NSDL - Trusted by more than One Crore account holders

Procedural changes made to facilitate new features for mutual funds held in demat accounts

The following new features for mutual fund units held in demat accounts are proposed to be introduced:

- Amount based redemption: Investors desiring to redeem their mutual fund units held in their demat accounts can specify the amount they intend to receive on redemption and the AMC/RTA will debit the appropriate number of units from the account of the investor.
- Redemption of "ALL" units: Investors desiring to redeem all the units held in their demat account of a certain scheme of a mutual fund can write "ALL" instead of mentioning the exact number of units. At the time of confirmation of the redemption request, the AMC/RTA can specify the number of units held and the units will get debited from the account of the investor.
- Conversion of "ALL" units: Investors desiring to convert all the units held in their folio with the AMC/RTA can write "ALL" on the Conversion Request Form instead of mentioning the exact number of units. At the time of confirmation of the conversion request, the AMC/RTA can specify the number of units held and the units will get credited to the account of the investor.

- Re-conversion facility: Investor desiring to re-convert the units held in their demat account to units in Statement of Account Form with the AMC/RTA can make a request to their Participant in the Re-conversion Request Form.

In order to facilitate the above new features, 11.3.5 Rule has been amended and Rule 11.8.1 to 11.8.10 were newly inserted, Annexure B (Conversion Request Form) and Annexure HA (Repurchase / Redemption Form) of Business Rules of NSDL has been amended and Annexure C (Redemption Request Form) of Business Rules of NSDL has been newly inserted.

Green Initiative in the Corporate Governance by Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA)

The Ministry of Corporate Affairs has taken a "Green Initiative in the Corporate Governance" by allowing paperless compliances by the Companies after considering sections 2, 4, 5 and 81 of the Information Technology Act, 2000 for legal validity of compliances under Companies Act through electronic mode.

Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA), Government of India has clarified that a company may send the document through electronic mode provided the company has obtained email addresses of its members for sending the notice / documents through e-mail by giving an advance opportunity to every shareholders to register their email addresses and changes therein from time to time with the company.

In view of above, clients can register their email addresses with the Participant in order to receive such communications from companies. Further, in case the clients change their email address, the new email address must be updated with the Participant.
